FALSE HOPE

Entertained by the Democrats Who Expect a Landslide in their Favor.

OFFSET TO THE COAL STRIKE.

Republicans Reason Logically Upon the Situation - Great Effort Being Made to Carry New York-Wonderful Reserve of Voters-People Have Become Educated-McKinley Certain of 251 Electoral Votes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 .- The Star

One of the peculiarities of the pending campaign is the hopefulness, even ex-pectancy, with which the Democrats cast their eyes upon states where, reasoning from the past, Democratic suc-cess would seem impossible. All figures which would give Bryan a majority of the electoral college must include states which gave McKinley overwhelming majorities in '96 and which in '98 showed steady and seemingly secure Republican majorities. Both parties are placing in the doubtful column states whose record gives no warrant for their being regarded as doubtful, but those which the Republicans claim to be doubtful are not needed by them if the states which are ordinarily Republican remain so. The Democratic doubtful column is, however, made up of such states as New York, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, states which are naturally counted by Republicans as certain for McKinley; and Indiana, Maryland, Kentucky and West Vir-ginia, all of which pronounced emphat-leally against Bryan in '96.

The Democratic Hope.

The Democratic hope, must, therefore, be based upon the theory of a political landslide, since any condition of affairs which would give to them New York and Illinois might as safely be counted on to sweep Ohlo and Iowa, or even Pennsylvania, and any number of other states no one now thinks of putting in the doubtful column. What the Democrats seem to be calculating on is what they do not know—by assuming that all the political forces they know nothing about, and which all their effort fall to discover, are favorable to themselves they are able to figure out marvelous possibilities. The three distinct things upon which they are calculating are the labor vote, an increase in their share of the German and other foreign vote and the votes of the unusual proportion of the population who are saying nothing and showing no special interest in the campaign. Contrary to general experience that the convert is very active and demonstrative, the Democrats construe silence and inactivity on the part of a voter to signify that he has undergone a change of heart and that Bryan has caught him, while the Republicans, more logically, reason that inactivity is due to contentment with present conditions.

Voters' Phenomenal Reserve.

It is agreed on both sides that the amount of reserve shown by voters all over the country is phenomenal. Canvasses are rendered unsatisfactory by the unwillingness of many voters to commit themselves, their evasive answers to questions leaving the conclusion as to their course largely to inference. Another thing reported by canipaigners of both parties who have been on the stump is the absence of large crowds at political meetings. Bryan, Roosevelt and Hanna can, of course, draw large crowds on account of their personality; but all the lesser lights find themselves slighted to a great extent, and even the small audiences the address show but little enthusiasm, This is construed in various ways by various people, the Democrats, with characteristic hopefulness, construing it to their own advantage. But the most reasonable explanation of it appears to be that the "campaign of edu-cation" which has been in progress for a number of years, particularly since the spring of '96, has brought most of the voters up to a point where they can think for themselves and feel that they do not need to drop their work and listen to campaign orators in order to form their conclusions. Two classes of people make up the large campaign meetings-those who in unreasoning en-thusiasm like to hear orators in fine rhetoric say things which they themselves thoroughly agree with, and those who are in doubt and want to learn Long practice in reading there are thousands of women who nearly suffer death from irregular menses. Some-times the "period" comes too often - sometimes not often enough—sometimes not often enough—sometimes the flow is too scant, and again it is too profuse. Each symptom shows that Nature needs help, and that there is trouble in the organs concerned. Be careful when in any of the above conditions. Don't take any and every nostrum advertised to cure female troubles.

Every Month

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

is the one safe and sure medicine for irregular or pain-ful menstruation. It cures all the ailments that are caused by irregularity, such as leucor-rhœa, falling of the womb, nervousness; pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides, hips and limbs. By regulating the menses so that they occur every twenty-eighth day, all those aches disappear together. Just before your time comes, get a bottle and see how much good it will do you. stroys interest and enthusiasm in campaign speeches, but does not create endifference in the results. There is abundant evidence from men who have been out looking the field over that the ab sence of excitement does not signify lack of interest in the campaign and its result, and that reason and material consideration will influence the voters.

Public Questions Understood.

During the session of Congress, when many difficult questions were under consideration, some of them threatening divisions in parties, members of the senate and of the house who try to keep in close touch with their constituents visited their homes or had correspon dence with responsible men in various parts of their respective states, without exception their reports showed that the public questions of the hour were about as well understood, not only in every city and town, but in the rural districts, as they were in Congress Politicians who have been among the people since then say that the same in-telligence and information is shown. This state of facts contradicts the assumption that the lack of enthusiasm at political meetings is due to indifference and indicates a campaign of cool, prac tical common sense on the part of the voters throughout the country who are not mere politicians.

A Set off to the Coal Strike.

The agreement between the iron and steel manufacturers in Ohio and the workmen, by which fires will be lighted in the iron and steel plants and 60000 men be given employment, is regarded upon the labor vote, not only in Ohio, but elsewhere. It is counted as a very considerable offset to the Pennsylvania coal strike. Recent information shows a decided improvement in the situation in Indiana for the Republicans. This state is acknowledged by Republicans to be very doubtful, and much anxiety has been expressed lest it should be lost to McKinley, but recent advices show that the work that is being done there ence and the situation is reported much more satisfactory. It is said that the Debs vote, which promises to be quite large, will count seriously against the Democrats in Indiana and elsewhere. An element which might otherwise be counted on to support Bryan will vote for Debs. In Indiana, Illinois, and in Washington this vote, it is said, will be considerable,

New York Favorable to Republicans. It is regarded as probable that in New York city, where Tammany has contro of the government, the Democrats will have a large vote, but Republicans not believe that Hill can cut down their majority up in the state, however earnestly he may try. A newspaper man who has recently been in Rochester, Buffalo and a number of lesser places in the state talking politics with business men, Democrats as well as Republicans, says that every indication points to an unusual majority for McKinley. While the Republicans cannot expect to do as well as they did in 1896, he says that they will probably come to the Harlem with more than 100,000 majority

Ex-Representative Yost, of Virginia who has been malding some speeches in New York, told a Star reporter that the Republicans in New York state were becoming aroused, and, while he would into the state for a few weeks and then predict what it would do politically, he did not see any grounds upon which the Democrats could base an expectation of success there. went up through the state making some speeches and on that occasion, he said, there was no great interest shown in the election. Returning a few days ago, he found a very different state of affairs. Instead of seeming indifference he found activity and earnestness. The Democrats, however, are bent upon making a determined effort to carry New York, and the conference between Bryan, Jones and Stone, hastily called at Chicago, will result in the adjustment of the plans of the Democratic managers so as to make that state a central point of attack. In explanation of this it is said that the elements of the old Blaine Irish Republican clubs are organizing in the state for Bryan, and that this, together with the independent work being done by the followers of Schurz, inspires the Democrats with confidence that if they work hard enough they can carry the state. Anor makli nn extra there is that without the electoral vote of New York it will be difficult to figure out, even in anticipation, how Bryan can be elected.

But in addition to this Montana South Dakota, Utah and Delaware are re-garded as very likely to go Republican, and Nebraska is said to be quite as doubtful as Indiana. The Republicans believe they can carry the state, notwithstanding the fact that it is Bryan's home, and the Democrats themselves are anxious about the result there and are trying to get the best speakers they can to stump the state. In addition to the interest that attaches to it on aclegislature is to be elected which will choose two United States senators.

DEMAGOGIC WAIL.

Democratic Candidate for Governor Talking in Randolph County. Meets iWth an Icy Reception-Sacrilegious Reference Applauded.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer, HORTON, W. Va., Sept. 26.—One week ago Congressman Dayton addressed an audience of four hundred people here and a more enthusiastic meeting was never held here. Yesterday, Hon. John H. Holt spoke here and although every effort was made by the Democratic managers to give him an ovation, not more than 150 people were present when he commenced speaking, and at least fifty of them left before he was through. He began his speech by admitting that we had hard times under admitting that we had hard times under Cleveland's administration and have had prosperous times under McKinley's administration.

He was not honest enough to admit that the Dingley protective tariff bill is the cause of the good times, but claimed that the failure of crops under Cleveland's administration caused the hard times, and the abundant crops during McKinley's administration have caused the good times. The lumbermen and farmers of this community would like to know whether the Democratic party has reversed the order of things, so that supply creates the demand instead of demand creating the supply. If so, the problem of Democratic hard times is solved.

gently. Perhaps he remembered that he himself, is a corporation attorney, and that Col. Tom Davis, Democratic candidate for Congress, is one of the biggest toads in the coal trust puddle, and that seated on the platform from which he spoke was a prominent Democrat who has money invested in to-bacco trust stocks.

He got his only applause when he irreverently referred to Mark Hanna and the Almighty being in partnership.

He ridiculed the full dinner-pail and said that when the campaign was opened at Youngston, Ohio, 6,000 men in that city were out of employment, but he falled to explain that these idle men were merely waiting for the wage scale to be signed, and that to-day there is not an unemployed man, who is willing to work, in all this vast iron and steel territory.

One of the coal plants in this state that he claimed is now idle, is actually advertising for 200 more miners. He wound up by lambasting "the ghosts of imperialism and militarism." His speech throughout was the wail of the demagogue. He made no votes for his party and brought back none of the dozen or more Democrats here who have declared their intention of voting the Republican ticket.

IN CONSTANT MISERY.

Relief Comes at Last to a Wheeling Citizen.

After years and years of constant misery from backache and the many annoying combinations that accompany sick kidneys a citizen of Wheeling finds relief and cure. The public state-ment which follows will help many a render.

Mrs. J. A. O'Brien, of No. 3013 Chap-line street, says: "I was as good a watchman as anyone on the beat, for night after night I could hardly get any sleep. I was so tortured with aches and pains in my kidneys and muscles, I had such constant, dull aching pains in my kidneys that I could not lie in bed or anywhere else, and it felt as bed or anywhere else, and it felt as though there was a growth between my breast bone and my shoulder blades. Every move I made hurt me, Ilesides rheumatic pains in the muscles of my limbs, knees and ankles frequently became swollen, and I often found it necessary when crossing a room to push a chair before me for support. My back was so weak I used a great many remedies without any benefit, although some seemed to give me a little relief for a time, but soon played out. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended by different parties that I had a great deal of confidence in them before I gut a box at parties that I had a great deal of confidence in them before I got a box at the Logan Drug Company's store. I only took a few pfils when I realized that my confidence was well placed. I feit their beneficial effects very quickly and by the time I completed the treatment all the symptoms entirely disappeared."
